Cheap Scanlines Effect Crack+ PC/Windows

This is the ultimate (cheap!) virtuality filter. It will make video have cheap scanlines on every other scanline making your video look like a cheap tube TV, much like the ones you see in a car repair shop. It does this by setting every alternate pair of scanlines to a random shade (between the lowest and highest quality shades you can adjust for). The percentage of scanlines to be dimmed is controlled with the sliders, and the tones are controlled with the +/- buttons. Limitations: This filter makes all scanlines look dim. However, it is compatible with all other Filters so if you want to make one that only makes the scanlines between black and white, or has them in the colors you want, use this. You can't use this filter for modifying or for a brighter than the color/shade you want to use. Areas of Improvement: This effect could be improved by using more quality shades and the filter can be improved by adding more shades (making it more controlable) and adding a control slider that controls the "Y" height.
