Design Concept Creator is the mysterious editor of the world of Elden Ring that is often called "Elden Ring" itself. He is a person that is pointed with a troublesome image, and he is what "never done anything", a person who doesn't know the true nature of a person's true self. At the point when you happen to get a mission, you'll be brought into "Elden Ring". We call it a warped geography of "Imprisoned God" territory, and in those days, you can be brought into "Imprisoned God" territory by yourself, while you can fight on your own behalf or are asked to fight for a certain group. It depends on the request. The name of "Design Concept Creator" has "he" in the latter half of it, and it is a pronoun that is used to express "myself". However, as a person that is called "Creator", I have to express "others", and that is what the name of "Design Concept Creator" means. Taking in mind that you are simply a part of the "Creator", you must play with a fixed mind as much as possible, and the story line of the game seems to be interesting and you would like to hear it from the author who has created it!

1. Design Concept Creator ※ Note : We are actually working on a slightly different "Design Concept Creator" as a concept for "The Elden Ring" (As we are in the latter half of the game, we have been told "the creator" so that we can communicate with the fans and we are actually working on a slightly different "Design Concept Creator" as a concept for "The Elden Ring".

2. About the Game ■ Player Flow ※ The new Fantasy Action RPG, "The Elden Ring" is a game that takes place between the World of a Demigod and the Lands Between.
