

[size=150] HTML Font Colorizer is a free colorizer for webpages, text documents and chat conversations. The program generates HTML source code from your typed text and lets you recolor all text in your webpages, chat conversations or document with the help of customizing colors. You can easily add colors to the text with the help of color pickers and paint brushes. The tool allows you to specify the colors by RGB (red, green and blue), hex code, HTML colors or named colors. You can display RGB colors on the screen, but you can choose any of them easily on the tool's paint list. The created HTML source code can be copied to the clipboard and pasted into other webpages.
